Overview

For more than a decade, Liz has worked with both corporate and civil litigation attorneys in a variety of matters including: product liability, premise liability, construction, wrongful death, personal injury, and other civil and criminal matters.

As part of the Bernkopf Goodman Litigation team, Liz handles pre-trial research and case preparation, including leading the e-discovery process by coordinating the forensic collection and processing of client data and preparing and analyzing search criteria for client documents. Liz also conducts document review and analysis, prepares and tracks subpoenas and notices of depositions, and manages Trial Director presentations at trial.

Liz handles the preparations of all case exhibits and regularly works and coordinates with experts and witnesses.
